

ENGAGING INTERGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

31 OCTOBER – 4 NOVEMBER 2016

Photo: O. Prasamphanich—UMN

EIO participants are senior and mid-career professionals from universities, government officials and related organizations.

“EIO is thrilling and inspiring. This program helps me think in a wider perspective about a problem and to deal with it in a more comprehensive way. I realize the importance of stakeholders and the importance of managing good relation with stakeholders.”

Titi Savitri Prihatiningsih
Faculty of Medicine,
Universitas Gadjah Mada, Indonesia

BACKGROUND

Engaging Intergovernmental Organization (EIO) – Southeast Asia is a professional development program designed to expand networks with key regional leaders, develop skills for effectively engaging intergovernmental organizations (IGOs) and seed collaboration.

The EIO – Southeast Asia is organized following a similar structure of the global EIO which has been held in Europe for more than eight years. This intensive program provides mid- and senior-level government officials, professionals from private sector and academics within Southeast Asia region the opportunity to interact with IGOs at their regional headquarters.

Participants draw on current events as they explore IGO roles in addressing global challenges, development of international standards, creation of successful public-private academic partnership and delivery of transdisciplinary capacity building.

OBJECTIVES

- To expand knowledge of intergovernmental organizations working for public goods, regional standard implementation and regional coordinator of surveillance and response related to agriculture, public health and environment.
- To reach out to regional network leaders with backgrounds in agriculture, public health and environment for the benefits of education, research and outreach programs.
- To become more effective in creating collaboration with international organizations at a regional level.

ORGANIZER

South East Asia One Health University Network (SEAOHUN) Secretariat

PLACE OF VISIT

Bangkok, Thailand

DURATION

One-week program (31 October – 4 November 2016)

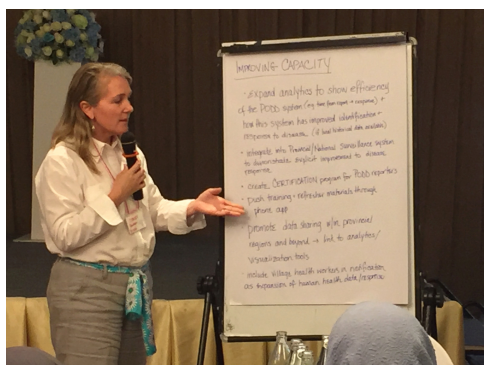

Photo: A.Treerutkuarkul—SEAOHUN

EIO provides an opportunity to build capacity in collaborating with international agencies at a regional level.

EXPECTED NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS

- Three participants nominated by each SEAOHUN member comprising Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand and Vietnam
- Two participants from each non-SEAOHUN member comprising Burma, Cambodia, and Lao PDR

CRITERIA OF PARTICIPANTS

- Participants should come from different disciplines and organizations.
- Participants should come from universities (priority), government officials and other interested individuals.
- Participants should be senior or mid-career professionals who can develop opportunities to collaborate with IGOs.
- Participants must be fluent in English.

COLLABORATIVE PARTNERS

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations Regional Office for Asia-Pacific

World Organization for Animal Health Sub-Regional Representation for South East Asia

World Health Organization (WHO) Thailand Country Office

Research Unit in Microbial Food Safety and Antimicrobial Resistance, Chulalongkorn University's Faculty of Veterinary Science

World Bank Office of Bangkok

Southeast Asian Ministers of Education, Tropical Medicine and Public Health Network (SEAMEO TROPMED)

Contact:

SEAOHUN Secretariat

2nd floor, Office of Dean's Secretariat Building, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Chiang Mai University, Mae Hia, Muang District, Chiang Mai 50100 Thailand
Office: +66-53-948-105
Fax: +66-53-948-104

SEAOHUN

@SEAOHUN_SEC